The NERYC summer camp program follows universally accepted methods of teaching sailing, and operates within the guidelines prescribed by US Sailing, the national governing body of the sport.

Learning, safety and fun are the cornerstones of our curriculum and our campers are taught using a combination of lectures, visual aids, practical drills and extensive on the water practice.

Beginner Sailors: Build their confidence on the water together with a partner as they learn the basics of rigging, points of sail, steering, sail trim, knot tying, docking, safety, and basic seamanship.

Intermediate Sailors: Move to single-handing and build on the basics as they further develop their confidence and seamanship. Sailors are also introduced to the fundamentals of racing at this level.

Advanced Sailors: Continue building their skills by working on advanced techniques, expanding their knowledge of the science of sailing, and develop their understanding of the rules and tactics of racing.

Bay Racer Team: Qualified sailors ready for competition. Team members receive specialized coaching and support as they travel and compete in regional regattas.
